He trained at Dawson College in Montreal in the Professional theatre program from 1980 to 1983. Here he discovered his calling in life and developed a serious passion for theatre. That passion has grown through the years and has come to include cabaret, musicals, film, television, radio and tv ads, dubbing, original voice animation and the list grows on.

A versatile character actor, Michel is at ease with both dramatic and comic parts, striving to bring a colourful truth to each one of his roles.
